The U.S. EPA requires the state fire marshal to regulate hazardous substance USTs. To comply with federal law, Revised Code 3737.88(D) requires the state fire marshal to adopt a list of hazardous substances for the underground storage tank program consistent with and equivalent in scope to a corresponding federal list. Owners of hazardous substance USTs have been required to comply with the federal list since November 8, 1984. The state fire marshal's list, which consists of 1102 substances, is being amended to parallel the federal list by deleting, adding, and correcting the entries for 65 of the substances (or 6%). Additionally, the rule was amended to delete the definition of "UST site", which is defined in rule 1301:7-9-02.

8. If the rule incorporates a text or other material by reference and the agency claims the incorporation by reference is exempt from compliance with sections 121.71 to 121.74 of the Revised Code because the text or other material is generally available to persons who reasonably can be expected to be affected by the rule, provide an explanation of how the text or other material is generally available to those persons:

NOTE: If the rule is not exempt at the time of final filing, two dates are required: the current review date plus a date not to exceed 5 years from the effective date for Amended rules or a date not to exceed 5 years from the review date for No Change rules.

FISCAL ANALYSIS

13. Estimate the total amount by which this proposed rule would increase / decrease either revenues / expenditures for the agency during the current biennium (in dollars): Explain the net impact of the proposed changes to the budget of your agency/department.

This will have no impact on revenues or expenditures.

No change.

14. Identify the appropriation (by line item etc.) that authorizes each expenditure necessitated by the proposed rule:

Not applicable.

15. Provide a summary of the estimated cost of compliance with the rule to all directly affected persons. When appropriate, please include the source for your information/estimated costs, e.g. industry, CFR, internal/agency:

BUSTR anticipates that very few members of the regulated community will be affected by the new additions to the hazardous substance list. The newly added hazardous substances have been on the federal list for many years, and the UST systems that contain these substances have always been subject to the federal requirements which are similar to Ohio's requirements.

16. Does this rule have a fiscal effect on school districts, counties, townships, or municipal corporations? No

17. Does this rule deal with environmental protection or contain a component dealing with environmental protection as defined in R. C. 121.39? Yes

You must complete the Environmental rule Adoption/Amendment Form in order to comply with Am. Sub. 106 of the 121st General Assembly.

Environmental Rule Adoption/Amendment Form

Pursuant to Am. Sub. H.B. 106 of the 121st General Assembly, prior to adopting a rule or an amendment to a rule dealing with environmental protection, or containing a component dealing with environmental protection, a state agency shall:

(3) Specifically identify whether the proposed rule or rule amendment is being adopted or amended to enable the state to obtain or maintain approval to administer and enforce a federal environmental law or to participate in a federal environmental program, whether the proposed rule or rule amendment is more stringent than its federal counterpart, and, if the proposed rule or rule amendment is more stringent, the rationale for not incorporating its federal counterpart.

(4) Include with the proposed rule or rule amendment and rule summary and fiscal analysis required to be filed with the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review information relevant to the previously listed requirements.

Please list the information provided and attach a copy of each piece of documentation to this form. (A SUMMARY OR INDEX MAY BE ATTACHED IN LIEU OF THE ACTUAL DOCUMENTATION.)

The State Fire Marshal relies on a list of hazardous substances adopted by the United States Environmental Protection Agency. Revised Code section 3737.88(D) requires the State Fire Marshal to adopt a hazardous substance list consistent with the federal list. The federal list can be found at 40 CFR 302.4, Appendix A.

(C) Is the proposed rule or rule amendment being adopted or amended to enable the state to obtain or maintain approval to administer and enforce a federal environmental law or to participate in a federal environmental program ? Yes

Is the proposed rule or rule amendment more stringent than its federal counterpart ? No

Not Applicable

(D) If this is a rule amendment that is being adopted under a state statute that establishes standards with which the amendment is to comply, is the proposed rule amendment more stringent than the rule that it is proposing to amend? No

Attachment A – Organizations Consulted

Since January 2007, the Division of State Fire Marshal, Bureau of Underground Storage Tank Regulations (BUSTR) has held several meetings with stakeholders to discuss proposed changes to the BUSTR regulations. These meetings were open to the public and included representatives from a cross section of the regulated community. All participants were encouraged to participate in the open discussions and to submit written comments on any topic that concerned them. In July 2009, BUSTR initiated a web-based petition process to inform the public of the rule review process and to encourage the public to participate in amending the BUSTR regulations. BUSTR has received over 2,300 petitions requesting changes to the BUSTR regulations. Below is a list of dates when BUSTR held meetings with the public to discuss changes to the BUSTR regulations.

BUSTR Rule Revision/Development Process

The Ohio Department of Commerce, Division of State Fire Marshal, Bureau of Underground Storage Tank Regulations (BUSTR) has begun its mandatory five year rule review for the existing BUSTR administrative rules and is simultaneously drafting new rules to conform to the requirements of the Energy Act of 2005 for three topic areas: (a) owner/operator training, (b) secondary containment, and (c) delivery prohibition. Thus, BUSTR is currently in the process of revising and/or writing four sets of administrative rules:

1. All existing BUSTR administrative rules
2. New administrative rules for owner/operator training
3. New administrative rules for secondary containment
4. New administrative rules for delivery prohibition

Update as of August 2010: To conform to the requirements of the Federal Energy Policy Act of 2005 for secondary containment and delivery prohibition, BUSTR Rules 6, 7, 8 and 18 are being considered separately from the remaining BUSTR rules. All other BUSTR rules, including owner/operator training, will be considered later in the year.

BUSTR values the input of all stakeholders in the regulatory process and encourages your participation in the rule revision/development process.

Generally, the revision/development process involves four steps:

1. Petition Period is the period of time when a stakeholder may submit one or more written petitions via the online Petition/Comment form to suggest a revision to an existing, or newly drafted, rule.
   - A compendium of all submitted petitions, along with BUSTR's response to each of them, will be published shortly after the petition period closes. This will be called the "report on petitions" or "ROP."
   - For those who cannot access the online from, the SFM/Code Enforcement Bureau is available to assist.

2. Comment Period is the period of time when a stakeholder may submit one or more written comments via the online Petition/Comment form regarding one or more previously submitted petitions.
   - A compendium of all submitted comments, along with BUSTR's response to each of them, will be published shortly after the comment period closes. This will be called the "report on comments" or "ROC."

3. Ohio's Formal Rule Adoption Process that involves filing the new draft of the rules with the legislature (referred to as the "final draft" at this point), publishing the final draft in the Register of Ohio, holding a mandatory public hearing, and going through the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review (JCARR) process for final acceptance.

4. Publishing and printing (hard copy and online) of the new and amended BUSTR Rules.

The Principles of the Rule/Development Process

Early in the process, especially where no rule currently exists (e.g., the requirements under The Energy Act of 2005), BUSTR will organize one or more "stakeholder meetings" where the stakeholders, industry representatives, and subject matter experts meet to exchange ideas with the SFM. The purpose of these verbal exchanges is to (a) inform stakeholders about the rule development/revision process, (b) inform stakeholders of what to expect in the initial draft of a future rule, (c) solicit feedback from those present regarding the concepts the SFM presents, and (d) have stakeholders inform the SFM of ideas and concerns, even if they have nothing to do with anything previously presented. At a stakeholder meeting, although there will likely be notes taken, there is generally no exchange or submission of written documents because the focus is on the exchange and explanation of concepts and ideas.

When new (usually Federal) requirements force the development of one or more new rules—such as those required by The Energy Act of 2005—BUSTR produces and distributes an initial draft of each rule (e.g., new administrative rules for owner/operator training and secondary containment) once the bureau is well informed of the ideas, concerns and positions of stakeholders. This initial document then becomes the basis for the subsequent Petition Period, and suggestions for changes to it are submitted to BUSTR through the online Petition/Comment Form.

During the Petition Period, all interested stakeholders may file petitions for proposed BUSTR rule changes. Petitions on any topic may be submitted at any time during the year, but submission prior to the closing date of the Petition Period will provide the stakeholder with the best chance of having the submitted petition considered in the current rule revision cycle. Petitions received after the Petition Period closes will be considered in the next rule revision cycle. After the Petition Period closes, each petition is thoroughly researched, a response is developed (e.g., Report on Petitions or ROP), and a draft of the proposed BUSTR rule (along with the ROP) are recommended to the Department of Commerce for approval. After approval, the ROP is released on the SFM Website, the draft of the proposed BUSTR rule is released to stakeholders, and the Comment Period begins.

During the Comment Period, the Report on Petitions is available for review by any person via the SFM Website, and comments on the petitions may be submitted through the online Petition/Comment Form. After the Comment Period closes, each comment is thoroughly researched, a response is developed (e.g., Report on Comments or ROC), and a final draft of the proposed BUSTR rule (along with the ROC) are recommended to the Department of Commerce for approval. After approval, the ROC is released on the SFM Website and the final draft of the proposed BUSTR rule is submitted to Ohio's formal rules adoption process.

About Completing the Online Petition/Comment Form
