Sec. 2. Section 26-55-2 of the Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies is repealed.

Statement of purpose: The purpose of replacing Section 26-55-2 with Section 26-55-6 is to enhance the Department's current programs concerning the importation, possession and liberation of wild animals. The enhancements serve to reduce threats to public health and safety, agricultural crops and native flora and fauna; limit administrative burdens on the regulated public and the Department; and improve program enforcement. Wild animals which, by virtue of their size, strength, temperament, envenomation, or propensity to transmit diseases to humans, are found to be a threat to public health and safety, or which, by virtue of their propensity to damage agricultural crops or native flora or fauna or their habitats, are prohibited from general ownership. Persons and institutions that provide a public benefit in the exhibition of such animals, may, under certain conditions, import and possess such animals.

The proposed new regulation addresses six areas related to the importation, possession and liberation of wild animals:

- Prohibits importation and possession of animals that are dangerous to people, agriculture or the environment;
- Provides for the importation and possession of wild animals that pose a threat to public health and safety, agriculture and the environment by institutions that serve a public benefit;
- Establishes a registration program for certain small primates possessed prior to October 1, 2003;
- Regulates the importation and possession of endangered or threatened species; and
- Regulates the release of wild animals.

Be it known that the foregoing regulations are adopted and repealed by the aforesaid agency pursuant to Sec. 26-55 of the General Statutes, as amended by Public Act No. 09-198 of the Public Acts, after publication in the Connecticut Law Journal on January 11, 2011, of the notice of the proposal to adopt and repeal such regulations, and the holding of an advertised public hearing on the 15th day of February, 2011.

Wherefore, the foregoing regulations are hereby adopted and repealed, effective when filed with the Secretary of the State.

In Witness Whereof: February 3, 2012, Daniel Esty, Commissioner.

Approved by the Attorney General as to legal sufficiency in accordance with Sec. 4-169, as amended, Connecticut General Statutes: February 7, 2012.

Approved by the Legislative Regulation Review Committee in accordance with Sec. 4-170, as amended, of the General Statutes: February 28, 2012.

Two certified copies received and filed, and one such copy forwarded to the Commission on Official Legal Publications in accordance with Sec. 4-172, as amended, of the General Statutes, Secretary of the State: March 5, 2012.
